DINNER

Keep the formula simple

PROTEIN

150 g chicken / lean beef / lean mince raw,
or 150-180 g fish raw.

VEGETABLES

Unlimited non-starchy vegetables or a large salad.

ONE STARCH

Use butternut or another planned starch when needed. One only.

EASY DINNER IDEAS

- Fish + large salad
- Chicken + vegetables
- Beef stew + vegetables
- Lean mince + vegetables
- Protein + vegetables + butternut on a hard training day

MORE TRAINING CAN CHANGE WHICH STARCH YOU USE.

It does not create permission for a second starch.

TRAINING DAYS & SWAPS

Use the rule, not guesswork

HIGHER-TRAINING DAY

Breakfast: oats + honey can work well. Late run: a banana beforehand can be useful. Dinner: butternut can be your ONE starch. Do not stack another starch on top.

EASIER / REST DAY

Choose a simpler breakfast. Use salad or vegetables freely. Keep the same protein portions. You may not need a starch at every meal.

ONE-STARCH SWAP EXAMPLES

60-75 g dry pasta ↔ 150-200 g raw butternut

1 medium wholewheat wrap ↔ 150-200 g raw butternut

Burger bun ↔ potato / butternut — choose the bun OR the side

Sunday lunch: one measured starch, not a plate of every starch

PERFECT WOMEN

WEEKENDS & TREATS

Enjoy them without losing the week

SUNDAY LUNCH

Keep the same protein portion. Fill the plate with vegetables / salad. Choose ONE starch. Skip the second helping just because it is Sunday.

TREAT RULE

Maximum two treat OCCASIONS per week. Plan them. Enjoy them. Return to normal at the next meal.

MEAL PREP

Pick the method you will actually use

FULL BATCH • ~90 MIN

Weigh raw portions before cooking. Example: 900 g raw chicken = 6 x 150 g portions. Cook 2 proteins, roast 3-4 butternut portions, boil eggs, wash veg. Freeze later-week cooked protein.

SPLIT PREP • 45-60 MIN TWICE

Sunday for Mon-Wed, then Wed/Thu for the rest. Prep 3 x 150 g raw protein portions, 2-3 measured starch portions, boiled eggs and washed veg.

MIX & MATCH

Prepare components, not full meals: proteins, measured starch options and unlimited vegetables. Good for families.

MINIMAL PREP

Divide raw meats into 150 g portions and fish into 150-180 g portions. Keep tuna, wraps, crackerbread, cottage cheese, bananas, shakes, bagged salad and frozen veg ready.

600 g = 4 × 150 g • 750 g = 5 × 150 g • 900 g = 6 × 150 g
